Project Assurance for Wholesalers

Ensure that you are on track for competition

With competition just round the corner most wholesale operations have instigated projects to ensure they are ready. The very nature of this being a new market means that there is limited internal experience to draw upon that can result in key tasks and risks being missed.

Ascendancy draws on its extensive Scottish market experience as well as the in depth work it has been doing in England to provide an external review service that can provide senior management with the confidence that its projects are on track to deliver.

Reviews are always delivered in a bespoke manner however we provide reviews with 3 levels of increasing depth.
